ACADIA HIGHLAND JUBILEE x — The first Polled son of the great Acadia sire, Calrossie Troubadour, sire of the International grand champion steer, P S Troubadour x. His full brother, Acadia Troubadour 35th x, was grand champion, 1959 National Polled Shorthorn Congress. One of today's most potent Polled pedigrees. A great individual possessing that Scotch character, quality, style, hair coat. Very masculine, low set and thick. The calves by this powerful bull are excellent . . . there are many to indicate clearly what he is doing for us and what he can do for his new owner.

THE PATTERN x — 1958 Omaha grand champion where he was purchased by Oakwood. His dam has produced four championship winners including the Iowa State Fair grand champion and International reserve senior champion female. Has compiled a great show record the past two seasons. We needed another strong herd bull, and although knowing we would soon disperse, we bought a half interest in this bull for $2,000. We wanted the herd at peak strength, we wanted some females bred to him in this sale, and we wanted another top herd bull as a buyer attraction. Oakwood and L & L sell their entire interest in this sale. A true beef bull . . . deep, thick, great-fleshed. Can write history.

NAEMOOR SARACEN — Because he stood in the shadow of Oakwood Conquest x in our Polled herd, this good imported bull has never had the chance he deserves. Purchased for us by Reford Gardhouse at Perth. His sons and daughters in this dispersal indicate his ability. A $\frac{3}{4}$ brother to Dungarhill Baronet, the Wheatland sire, whose many daughters can be seen at Maclyn Plantation. The dam is a full sister in blood to the dam of Billy Anderson's Louada Consort. Has age, is thin and will be a bargain.

OAKWOOD DEMOCRAT x — We bought this calf in the 1959 fall Oakwood sale and he is just now coming of age to use. A bull that has come along rapidly every day and will continue to do so. Exceptionally thick, long quarter, very deep and rugged. Sire a 100% dehornor. Princess Doreen is one of the best cows at Oakwood.

Oakwood Democrat x.

This is the logical place for me to explain why I have reached the difficult decision to disperse. It's not easy to explain because I don't believe, in most cases, there is ever any one reason. I'll start by telling you some of the things that are not reasons. First, it is not because this herd has been unprofitable . . . it has been a good investment. We have operated the herd in a practical manner. In one year, for example, with 125 head of brood cows, we sold over $60,000 in cattle. It is not because of any loss of interest in the breed or its great future in the South. As a matter of fact I fully intend to return to the ranks with a smaller herd before too long. I would have preferred to keep some of these as basis for such a herd, but I know, as a practical matter, a full dispersion results in the best sale.

Those who know me realize that I want to spend a lot of time on any enterprise in which I am interested. During the first nine years in the business I traveled extensively to sales, shows, meetings. I was very active in Association affairs and was honored and enjoyed holding such jobs as president of the American Polled Shorthorn Society, the Alabama Cattlemen's Ass'n, and secretary of the Southeastern Shorthorn Ass'n. However, in the past four years we have expanded our wholesale supply business, plan further expansion, and I have also entered four other business enterprises. The work and travel in connection with all this has kept me so far from the cattle business that I no longer feel I am participating the way I once did. There are other reasons, too . . . we have never built the proper buildings on our new farm after selling the original farm. We have a large band of quarter horses and we have never been able to find horsemen that liked registered cattle or vice versa, and, we don't kid anyone . . . we can use the money that a herd this size will bring. That's another good thing about the cattle business . . . you always have something you can turn to cash.

During the last two or three years, we have not fitted anything. There has been no creeping of calves, and the cows have just had pasture and hay in the winter. In some cases you may feel an animal is quite thin, or not properly grown out for its age. This is purely a matter of feeding . . . not breeding . . . as the record of our cattle in the hands of others and in the weight-for-age feeding tests at Auburn and Tifton demonstrated.

Because most of our cattle are not halter broken, we have decided to sell in the good facilities at Camilla, Georgia. The herd is at peak strength. We are fortified with 40 daughters of Oakwood Conquest x and four of the strongest herd bulls in service anywhere. Furthermore, in the natural sifting of any herd over the process of 11 years, we are left with the very best producing families. All slow producers have been culled . . . and if there happens to be one or two more uncovered between now and sale day they will not be sold. The high percentage of calves at foot, with the other cows springing heavily, is testimonial to the health and prolificacy of the herd. Breeding dates will be announced at the sale.

I love Polled Shorthorns and the people who breed them. They have both been good to me. I know these cattle will do well. Looking forward to seeing you.

We thought highly enough of this bull and his background to use him on some of our cows.

Oakwood Conquest x (left) . . . Our Best Investment

At the 1953 Oakwood sale we paid $7,000 for this great bull. He died last year. A son of Commander-in-Chief x, he was out of one of the breed's truly great cows, she also the dam of Oakwood Bequest x, Oakwood Request x, and Oakwood Bardolier x.

A number of his sons have been sold to head top herds in the South. They and their calves have made excellent records on testing programs. We sold a few of his daughters, but our herd plans always called for the retention of his best daughters. In this dispersion there are approximately 40 daughters selling as separate lots, 30 sons, plus many calves.

Where else can you select from 40 daughters of one great Polled Shorthorn sire?

(Right) Scene at the 1953 L & L sale, the first production sale of any Shorthorn breed in the Southeast in modern times. The stimulus of the five L & L sales helped prove the market for the breed in the Southeast and helped pave the way for the great expansion that has taken place in this area.

L L Drambuie's Kora, purchased for $950, 1955 L & L sale by Bob Godwin, Winwood Farms, Brundidge, Ala. She sold for $1,000 in his dispersion last year. Her daughter also brought $1,000, both going to Bruce Hancock, Stone Mountain, Ga. Lot 34 is the dam, Lots 35 and 36 her daughter and granddaughter, Lots 37, 38, 39, 40, 41 and 42 are closely related.

A HERD THAT WROTE BREED HISTORY

No one person is responsible for the tremendous growth of the breed in the Southeast. However, Jim Adams was one of the first to show what really could be done. Not only did he win scores of converts to the breed in an area where the name Shorthorn was relatively unknown, but he demonstrated that if you breed them good enough you can sell them everywhere. The first to hold a sale of his own in modern breed history in the South, his cattle in five sales sold into 17 states and Canada. All cattle in these sales averaged $560.

Because of his natural enthusiasm and drive, many of our present breed leaders in this area first learned about the breed through Jim Adams or his L & L advertising. Always he believed in well bred cattle. He wanted the entire story of his herd in catalog form in the breed magazine, and was anxious to show, too, how he had reached his goal of fortifying his herd with 40 daughters of one great Polled Shorthorn sire. (Because of the need to conserve space, the pedigrees of the younger cattle have been condensed.)

The herd is in grand working order . . . good calves everywhere you look. However, they are not in sale shape, they are thin. If you can tell a good one in its working clothes, you can have a field day at this sale. The herd has been culled ruthlessly over the years. The cream of proven producers is left.

This is the sale of the "plant" that has made money for Jim Adams . . . and many herds will be strengthened through this dispersion.

Don Longley, The Shorthorn World
